PSI CHAPTER: HONORING OUR PAST, BUILDING OUR FUTURE

CHAPTER ROOM DEDICATION A HUGE SUCCESS

Rick Donlan '68 and Glenn Kirwin '82 Honored

On Friday, April 28, more than six dozen Psis and their guests gathered to dedicate the new Psi Chapter Room. Seventy-five years of Brotherhood were represented—from 1947 to the present day. The event culminated a six year effort to plan, fundraise, and build a new 3,000 square foot addition to the House. The new wing features a first floor Chapter Room and patio and a belowground event venue and terrace for parties. The construction also included improvements to the existing House's basement and the addition of men's and women's bathrooms adjacent to the party spaces. The final cost for the addition was $1.1 million—significantly less than the original commercial bid for the project and a bargain—thanks primarily to Bret Holden '83 who agreed to be the general contractor at no cost and builder, Gary Martin, who went above and beyond performing the actual construction.

It was a fun-filled, celebratory day that began with 31 Actives, Alumni, and assorted ringers teeing up at the Psi of Sigma Chi dedication scramble at Stoney Creek Golf & Country Club near Wintergreen on Friday morning. The evening kicked off with the dedication ceremony, a sobering backdrop to the celebration as the Chapter Room was dedicated to two of our fallen Brothers, Rick Donlan '68, who died in Vietnam, and Glenn Kirwin '82, who died in the World Trade Center on 9/11. House Corporation President, Jim Moore '68 served as the Master of Ceremonies and Steve Herbert '68 provided an overview of the fundraising and construction process. Rob Raiola '18 remarked on the difficulties of the year due to the construction but emphasized the long-term value and sincere gratitude by the Actives for this immense undertaking.

Bret Holden and Steve Herbert were recognized for their invaluable contributions. The two have been relentless in their determination and never deterred in their commitment to the vision of

Plan Your Visit to the Chapter House

The Board of Directors is proud to announce that Phase 1 of the building project is now completed, thereby providing the Chapter with social/recreational facilities second to none at the University. All Psis will be pleased with the addition to the old house. Please do stop by the house upon your next visit to Charlottesville.

The Board of Directors has been working on this project for almost a decade. Congratulations to all Psis who have been involved thus far, whether as an Active or recent Active who was inconvenienced by a yearlong construction process, or as a volunteer fundraiser, board member, and especially as a generous financial donor. Thank you and well done!

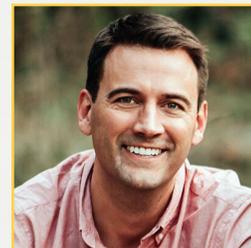

In hoc,

Jeff Jenkins '99 Named CMO of Carl's Jr. & Hardee's Parent Company

Jeff Jenkins '99 was recently named the Chief Marketing Officer (CMO) of CKE Restaurants, the parent company of Carl's Jr. and Hardees. Jeff, who started out in biochemistry at UVA and ended up with a degree in theatre, has learned the ropes across numerous industries over the years. He started out doing branding for MTV where he found his passion for marketing.

In addition to his impressive resume of past employers, including companies like Taco Bell and Whole Foods, Jeff credits much of his success to his time spent in Psi of Sigma Chi. His most beneficial takeaway from his Sigma Chi experience was learning to work together to overcome obstacles. "What it means to support each other, battle through obstacles, understand group dynamics, and get the most out of everyone," he says.

After Jeff finished his undergraduate degree, he went on and earned his MBA at UCLA Anderson. After testing the waters with his first franchise, Taco Bell, he learned there is nothing like working in this industry. "I get to influence everything from product ideas, creation, development, and national launch," he says.

Jeff said he has learned a lot from his experience in different industries which has allowed him to understand vastly different business models and consumers. He encourages undergraduates to "go out and see the world. Travel, live life, and find your passion."

With his new role as a CMO of a large franchise restaurant, Jeff says he is excited and honored to be joining such a well-established organization where he will bring his 15 years of experience in digital and food service marketing.

A theme of Jeff's career is to chart your own course by following your own passions. His experiences in Sigma Chi helped him develop those initial interests and discover who he really was. "It grounded me in being who I am by surrounding myself with people with different views leading to a better life," he says.

Jeff encourages all his classmates to support the ongoing Psi Chapter Honoring Our Past, Building Our Future capital campaign. He can be reached at jeff.m.jenkins@gmail.com.

Chapter Eternal

Ron Krueger '56 entered Chapter Eternal on August 2. His obituary can be found at flintofts.com.

Robert E. Anewalt '57 entered Chapter Eternal on April 10, 2017, at the age of 81. His obituary can be found in the Washington Post.

The Constantine Memorial Chapter House

For more than 150 years, the Psi Chapter of Sigma Chi has been an important part of the culture of the University of Virginia. While our Chapter has historically distinguished itself in its preparation of leaders at the University and beyond, it is the irrevocable bond of our Brotherhood that sets us apart from other fraternities on the Grounds. It is this connection to our past, our present, and our future that our Alumni most treasure. Without this special bond, we would not have been successful in continuing Psi of Sigma Chi's long tradition of excellence.

There is no better example of the vital role Alumni have played in preserving our history than our long-standing collective care of the Chapter House. Many of you may not know that our Chapter House was originally purchased with the private funds of the Actives from the 1950s who later transferred ownership to what we know today as the House Corporation. The article below is by Bob Fair '50 taken from the spring 1951 edition of the Cavalier Sig, a twice yearly publication published by the active Brotherhood, explains the House purchase. Reading the article below and reflecting on the story's parallels with where we are today should make all Sigma Chi Alumni proud of the bricks-and-mortar legacy we have helped create.

Our Chapter's past is secure, our present is thriving, but our future depends on our vigilance in supporting Psi. The Psi Chapter Honoring Our Past, Building our Future capital campaign is depending on you.

“At the last meeting of the Executive Committee of the National Chapter full approval was given to Psi Chapter of Sigma Chi to use the name “Constantine Memorial Chapter House” in an official capacity. This act was the culmination of one of the greatest hopes and dreams of all Psi men for many years. We have at last taken the great step and have become the Constantine Memorial Chapter.

“Thinking it would be of extreme interest not only to the alumni of this chapter, but to all Sigs in general, to know how this has come about, herewith is presented a short account of the acquisition of our new home.

When the new officers for the spring term were installed last January, Consul Bob Fair '50 appointed Brother Bill Chalfant as the Chairman of the House Committee. Up until this time, preliminary foundations had been poured, and much valuable ground work had been laid. Projects definite and concrete had been accomplished such as the founding of the Constantine Memorial House Fund. The plan was there. Now was the time to act.

“By March 1, action had been taken. A house had been found and it was close to what we wanted. Therefore, full approval was given to the House Committee to commit us to buying it.

But the time was not yet quite ripe. As the final negotiations were being made, another fraternity on the Grounds, Kappa Alpha Order, sealed the purchase. It was a bitter disappointment to us all when a week later Brother Chalfant reported this fact to the Chapter.

“It was therefore with great jubilation the following meeting that the House Committee reported that we had found “it.” “It” was a beautiful fourteen-room brick mansion, situated but four blocks from the Rotunda, procurable by this summer for $38,500. The house had ample room for dining facilities: it had a large basement capable of being made into a combined bar-rumpus room; it had sleeping room for eighteen brothers; it had a lawn of magnificent proportions; it had everything that we wanted for a fraternity house that was worthy of the proud name to be attached to it.

“The chapter voted its confidence unanimously, as to any action that the Committee deemed fit. Working speedily and with utmost secrecy, hand in hand with the Alumni Committee, Psi Chapter acquired the right to purchase the house within a week. When the final contracts were drawn up we found that we would take possession of the property in June. This was a little sooner than hoped for, but we had our cake and it seemed as if we were eating it too. It came as a very wonderful surprise, and plans were a little confused for a while.”

“By now, however, things have smoothed out considerably. Grass has already been planted in the lawn; plans drawn up for the renovation of the basement; all exterior trim is to be painted before school closes. All this work is being done by the brothers, themselves, due to the extremely limited budget that such a purchase entailed.

“No article about the new Memorial Chapter House would be complete without a word of our extreme gratitude to the two members of the Alumni Committee, Brother Bob Harmon and Brother Joe Vaughn, who have helped Psi at every turn in this important new step forward. Their help has been the true inspiration of Sigma Chi.

“And now a final word about the House. To fittingly dedicate this Chapter House, Psi Chapter has set the date of December 2, 1950 as the day for the ceremonies. To all members, active and alumni, Psi men and others, we extend the most cordial invitation to be present. It, we sincerely believe, represents one of the great milestones in the history of the Sigma Chi fraternity.”

CHAPTER ROOM DEDICATION

the new Chapter Room addition. Dick Dyas '68 then provided a heartfelt narrative on Rick Donlan who left UVA in 1967 during his third year, enlisted in the Army, and served in Vietnam with the 101st Airborne Division, where he made the ultimate sacrifice for his country. Dick emphasized Rick's loyalty to God, country, friends and family, and patriotism. Jay Donlan '66 and his wife Mary represented the Donlan family. Jim Mallon '81 followed with a similar remembrance of Glenn Kirwin who, on September 11, 2001, was a senior vice-president at Cantor Fitzgerald headquartered on the 101st-105th floors of One World Trade Center. Jim highlighted Glenn's inquisitive, innovative mind, and mature temperament – always steady, confident, and wise. Jim introduced Glenn's family who were present – wife Joan and sons Miles and Troy, all of them fellow Wahoos. Mike Clabby '83 also provided personal anecdotes on Glenn. It was difficult to re-open these old wounds, but the memories of Rick and Glenn are cherished and their legacies remarkable. One indication of their impact is that more than one-third of the current pledges were made in memory of Rick and Glenn.

The day closed with a band party in the new belowground party venue and outdoor terrace. Bret Holden generously funded the event. For those who shared the day with us—thanks for coming. For those who could not make it—we missed you. Please consider a visit to our Psi House and see what we have done. You will be astounded and proud.

Undergraduates Thankful for New Chapter Room Sigma Chi Gears up for Another Successful Year

The Psi Chapter of Sigma Chi is looking forward to the start of the 2017-18 school year at the University of Virginia. Our Brotherhood has consistently been involved within the UVA community in many capacities, from leadership to volunteer service to numerous other clubs and organizations.

Following the completion and dedication of the new Chapter Room, our members are grateful and excited to begin the year with a terrific new space for studying and conducting important chapter meetings and a new room and terrace for social events. We are also excited to welcome back many Alumni in the fall when they return for reunions to see the complete renovations. We were fortunate to have Brothers attend the 81st Grand Chapter and Balfour Leadership Training Workshop this summer, and we look forward to learning from their profound experiences.

Several brothers were able to increase their worldly perspectives this summer, as they had the opportunities to visit and study in other cities including Sydney, London, and Tel Aviv. Many more Brothers furthered their academic pursuits by accepting internships and jobs across the country in places such as Boston, New York City, Washington D.C., and Orlando.

The Psi Chapter intends to continue and strengthen our longstanding commitment to academic success this coming semester.

Actives and Alumni at the Dedication Weekend

Thirty-one actives, alumni, and assorted ringers teed-up at the Psi of Sigma Chi dedication scramble at Stoney Creek Golf and Country Club on Friday, April 28. Two foursomes emerged victorious at 6-under par. The actives team of Jack Jeffrey '18, George Ingber '18, Trevor Davis '17, Brett Bushman '17 tied with alumni Todd West '84, Rob Hargett '84, Scott Scherbenske '84, Scott Waskey '88, and split prizes. Actives Jake Mulholland '17 and Gardner Tregellas '18, took home individual prizes for long drive and closest to the pin.

Numerous Brothers were accepted into the McIntire School of Commerce and the Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy. Several Brothers intend to complete their bachelor's degrees ahead of schedule and begin working towards their master's degrees early.

Apart from extracurricular activities, Brothers of the Psi Chapter hold leadership positions and maintain significant involvement in the UVA community. Sigma Chi Brothers dedicate their time to Pancakes for Parkinson's, Seeds of Hope, One Goal, Homers for 'Hoos, Camp Kesem, IFC-JC, Honor, and many other organizations that help to positively impact the lives of others.

In the spring of 2017, we were able to raise over $21,000 during Derby Days for the UVA Children's Hospital, and we hope to continue growing that number each year. We support and participate in many other Greek philanthropies, such as the Alpha Phi Thankful 5K, where the Psi Chapter has twice in a row been given recognition for the strongest participation in the event. We hope to continue the Psi Chapter's long tradition of serving and enhancing the Charlottesville and UVA communities through this year and into the future.
